

Issues discussed in the 2015 Skype consultation process

Complex couple work

- Repairing present day injuries such as affairs and the impact of gambling
- Addressing past injuries and the impact of this on the relationship, such as violence (physical, sexual and emotional )
- Working with differences, such as sexual interest, parenting, money

The impact of violence, this includes the following -:

- Work with the perpetrator of the violence and the person who suffered violence
- Working with parents who are subject to violence by young people

Children and young people

- Using story and play to explore issues of belonging
- Finding and developing children and young people's resources
- Facilitating complex conversations around identity (sexuality ,gender culture )
- Liberating children and young people from internalising blame and fault in environments where adults and caregivers have directly and indirectly implied that they are at fault for the violence inflicted on them .
- Developing a playful approach to the therapeutic work with children and young people.

Family work

- Developing a systemic capacity and overview
- Developing a context where all participants are working in the same direction
- Developing the capacity to notice and construct differences that produce the possibilities for change
- Engaging all Family members
- Drawing conversation threads together
- Addressing conflict in the room

Supervision of supervision

- Developing a reflective practice
- Managing ethical issues
- Navigating challenging conversations
- Highlighting technical abilities including areas that need extension or practice through the super-vision process
- Assisting supervisee's to notice the impact of judgments on their clinical work
- Developing environments that support transparency re the clinical and supervision practice

Management and leadership

- Dealing with conflict , between staff and between you and other's
- Developing an environment of transparency and accountability
- Developing awareness of people's capacities in respect to leadership
- Developing a relational perspective and overview
- Developing the capacity to generate an organizational vision and move toward this vision
- Developing an ability to notice the impact of the power relation on organizational relationships and then effectively managing this impact for the benefit of the organization.